Hempstead, New York*

DEDICATION

IN OBSERVING the annual tradition of dedicating the Colonial to a member of the faculty, a teacher has been chosen who has proven her loyalty to and interest in Hempstead High School for a period of more than twenty years.

In 1924, a year after graduating from Cornell University, Mrs. Noon came to Hempstead High. She taught here for five years before leaving to attend the University of Wisconsin, where she received the degree of Master of Arts. The following year she returned to our school and has been teaching here since.

Mrs. Noon has traveled extensively in the United States. Her most memorable trip was a six-weeks vacation at Rocky Mountain National Park. She has also traveled to Europe several times, especially visiting Switzerland, where her father was born.

Mrs. Noon is intensely interested in interior decorating. She has completely planned her home and landscaped her garden. Among her other hobbies are reading, gardening, cooking, and entertaining. She also enjoys the theatre and the opera.

The Staff of the 1947 Colonial is proud to dedicate this book to Mrs. Noon both as a mark of the esteem in which she is held and also as a means of expressing our sincere appreciation of her loyalty and her splendid service to Hempstead High School.

MRS. ESTELLE C. NOON

IN APPRECIATION

IT IS with sincere regret that we, the faculty and students of Hempstead High School, note your retirement from the position you have so capably filled during the past fifteen years. You have successfully guided our schools through the problems encountered during the difficult and trying times of the war. Your loyal cooperation and steadfast support of all school activities have done much to advance the standing of Hempstead High School. We appreciate the progress that the school system has made both in growth and in bettering its educational values under your administration.

We shall miss your friendly, genial personality in the corridors of our school. Your pleasant smile and ready sense of humor will long be remembered.

With every good wish for your happiness, Dr. Gore, we say farewell and good luck in all your plans and activities in the future.

DR. WILLIAM A. GORE

FOREWORD

THE coming of Spring brings wildlife, and with it the appearance of the Colonial with its theme of birds and animals to depict the life at Hempstead High School. The theme has been created with words, expressions, cartoons, and pictures which may be associated with the events and the subjects in the book. Each divider page is preceded by a familiar expression which bears a direct significance to the section immediately following.

The days spent in high school are undoubtedly the most memorable days in the lives of many persons, and it is through such means as a yearbook that these memories are captured, to be held in later years as fond possessions.

It has been the earnest endeavor of the Staff of the 1947 Colonial to present to you the most interesting and enjoyable yearbook that you have yet had the opportunity of reading. It is also our most sincere and ardent hope that you will meet the world before you with success and happiness. So, as you read the following pages, as you look at the various pictures, may you recall your "happy-as-a-lark" days at Hempstead High School.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

AS the elected representatives of the taxpayers of our school district, the Board of Education is the final governing authority of our school system. The people of Hempstead have exercised prudence in selecting, as the members of their Board of Education, a group of capable business men to guide the policies and to control the financial affairs of their school system. Themselves taxpayers, these men give liberally of their time and effort in order that our school system may be governed in the most efficient manner possible and at the same time avoiding unreasonable expenditure of the public money entrusted to their charge.

The Board of Education meets regularly on the third Thursday of each month and whenever the needs and welfare of the schools indicate. During these friendly, though sometimes extended, meetings the members of the Board resolve happily and unanimously the problems which are presented for their consideration.

These men have our sincere and grateful appreciation for the excellent school system which they have provided for us.

DR. WILLIAM GORE

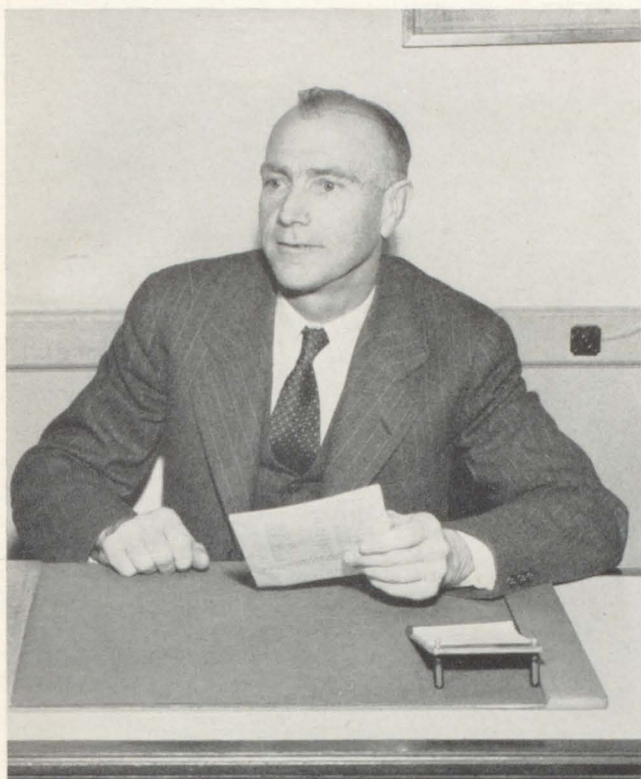

THIS year will be the last in which we shall enjoy the privilege of having Dr. William A. Gore as Superintendent of the Hempstead Schools. Having faithfully carried out his manifold duties in this capacity for many years, he feels that he and Fluff need a well-earned rest.

During Dr. Gore's superintendency here, the Hempstead School System has expanded several times. The annex on the north end of the High School was erected, and the auditorium was added to the Washington School. Additional land was purchased for the High School athletic field and for playgrounds at the Franklin, Fulton, and Jackson Schools. Being keenly interested in music himself, he was instrumental in enlarging the music departments.

Dr. Gore gained valuable experience while he was Superintendent of Schools at Jacksonville, Illinois, and at Webster Groves, Missouri, positions which he held prior to his coming to Hempstead. His education has been very broad in scope. He first attended the University of Illinois. This was followed by courses at Columbia, Harvard, and finally, New York University, where he received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Dr. Gore's congeniality has made him a real favorite of the entire community. He takes part in many civic activities and is always ready to help with promoting charitable or community drives. His interest in these civic affairs is one reason why our schools have been so successful in these drives.

We shall all miss Dr. Gore's genial companionship and intelligent supervision; we hope that he will plan to visit with us in the years to come.

DR. RAYMOND MAURE

IT was indeed a great day for Hempstead High School when Dr. Raymond Maure became its Principal.

He began college at Wesleyan University. After two years there he went to Alfred University to obtain his Bachelor of Science Degree. Later he returned and earned the degree of Master of Arts. In a quest for greater knowledge, Dr. Maure attended Rutgers, Columbia, and New York University, where he obtained his degree of Doctor of Education.

His first position in the field of education was that of Vice-Principal and Instructor of Science in the Fulton High School, Fulton, New York. After being Principal of another school Dr. Maure came to Hempstead High to be Principal.

He established the first night training school for future aviators; these spread throughout the country. He started the first and largest school for veterans in the county and has also made many other outstanding contributions to Hempstead and to Nassau County.

He is a member of several educational associations, has served on important boards including the Board of Trustees at Hofstra College, and just last year was one of the two high school principals from this area appointed to a committee which formulated a plan for the "Education of Youth in America."

Dr. Maure enjoys bowling and golf, but his pet hobby is boating. Clam-digging also rates high on his list of hobbies. His friendly, pleasant manner is a far cry from the old notion of what a principal should be.

Hempstead High School is indeed fortunate in having such an experienced and able educator as its Principal.

OFFICE STAFFS

Hilda M. Hardy, Margaret E. Doty.

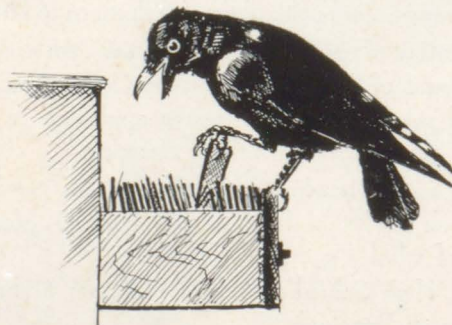

Jeannette R. Siegmann, Edith E. Schwedes.

OFFICE I

THIS Office, together with Office IA, takes care of all school district business in matters relating to the Board of Education and the Superintendent of Schools. Office I attends to all financial matters of the district and its schools, as well as the various state reports, civil service records, rental of and repairs to school buildings and other school properties, and the cost distribution for each school.

OFFICE IA

THIS Office was established to take care of some of the work formerly performed in Office I, thereby relieving the crowded conditions there. Office IA takes care of all matters relating to working papers, the purchase of supplies for all of the Hempstead Public Schools, and all matters relating to non-resident students. The High School Activities Fund and the Cafeteria Fund are also administered through this office.

OFFICES II AND III

OFFICES II and III are the nerve centers of our school. From the office of Dr. Maure, our Principal, come all decisions and all plans for our school, whether administrative, educational, or recreational. Under the guidance and direction of Dr. Maure, the work of the school is coordinated. Assisting him in this work are his secretaries, Mrs. Newill and Miss Dickson.

The Registrar's department of Office II maintains the scholastic and personnel records of the school, and assists students with the planning of their school programs and their preparation for entrance to the colleges of their choice. The Veterans Education Program is also planned and administered through this office.

The Staff of Office III has charge of matters pertaining to attendance, discipline, and extra-curricular activities. Mrs. Foster, the Dean of Girls, is responsible for attendance and discipline of the girls, and Mr. Beddow is in charge of the boys and directs extra-curricular activities. Mr. Moore, in addition to being Administrative Assistant, is in charge of the Visual Education Program.

SENIOR CLASS

DURING the third period, September twenty-third, 1946, a most important event took place in the auditorium of Hempstead High School. The officers to preside over the monthly meetings of the Senior Class of more than five hundred members were elected. Robert Kress was chosen president of this outstanding body. Joyce Eder was elected vice-president. The records of the meetings are kept by Lee Renander, and the dollar dues of each Senior are received by Jack Hall. These students were selected from the seniors nominated by twenty-two of their fellow classmates at a meeting held a week before the election. All of those who were nominated are the president or head of some organization or club in the school.

The teachers who advise the class are Miss Barth, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Vincent, and Mr. Lints. These able advisers help the Seniors in solving any difficult problem and also assist in the planning of various activities during the graduating year.

A very popular event of the year was the Senior-Freshman party, at which the girls of the two extreme classes of the school become acquainted. The Freshman girls were required to wear high knee socks, bibs, and to carry rattles. Huge hair bows were worn and dolls were carried by the Seniors. Throughout the day lollipops were enjoyed by all. In 1946 this annual gathering was held on Hallowe'en, thus providing the girls with a dual celebration.

In October samples of senior rings arrived. The class was posed with a difficult problem, for there were five attractive designs from which to choose—three black onyx styles and two of the original Hempstead High School design. Any accredited Senior was allowed to purchase the ring of his choice. Another bewildering situation came up when the class decided what color caps and gowns to wear at that auspicious occasion, graduation. There were three equally desirable colors from which to make a selection: maroon, blue, and gray.

Many problems are facing the Seniors as their final year at Hempstead High School comes to a close. As the Colonial went to press, a group of Seniors was making the final plans for Commencement, to be held on June twenty-third and twenty-fourth. This committee also spent many nerve-racking hours trying to decide upon a suitable motto, color, and flower for the Class of 1947.

Another committee was given the difficult task of selecting a memento to leave to the school. Whatever the memorial is, it will surely be greatly appreciated.

All acknowledge that the Seniors' presence has been most enjoyable. All our best wishes for good luck go with the Class of 1947.

SENIOR BALL

HUGE snowflakes and icicles on a blue background accented the Winter Wonderland theme of the Senior Ball. Decorations were designed and executed by Janet MacGregor and her committee, Gladys Anckner, Muriel Canning, Florence Cormack, Nalda de Riesthal, Vinetta Smith, Jane Ertel, Irene Alberga, Muriel Ashe, Eileen Callanan, Thelma Funk, Robert Hoffman, and George Brennañ under the direction of Miss Field.

Three hundred couples swayed to the music of Peter Vance and his orchestra on February first in the boys' gym. Richard Bohan was responsible for the music preparations.

Refreshments were prepared and served by Marion Loweth and Joan Crocker, co-chairmen, with Doris Zeigenbein, Doryce Yauch, Dorothy Macdonald, Mary Keplinger, Dorothy Lauffer, Nancy Jungblut, Thea Gorytzka, and Lucille Beverson as committee members.

SENIOR PLAY

THE Class of 1947 selected for production the delightful comedy "I Remember Mama." The play was written by John Van Druten and produced on Broadway for two years, where it was a smash hit. It has only recently been released for school production. Hempstead High will be one of the first schools to present it.

The play is centered around memories of Mama by her daughter, Katrin, double-cast with Janice Angelbeck and Phyllis Snow. Mama will be portrayed by Irene Hundzinski, with a supporting cast of twenty.

As the Colonial went to press, plans were under way to present this production on May twenty-second and twenty-third, and the Seniors were practicing steadily to make the production a bigger success than ever. The play is directed by Miss Randall, head of the Dramatics Department.

JUNIOR

THE Junior Class is one of the most outstanding of all the organizations that make up our great school. The students of the Junior Class become the new leaders and must keep up the high standards as set forth by their predecessors.

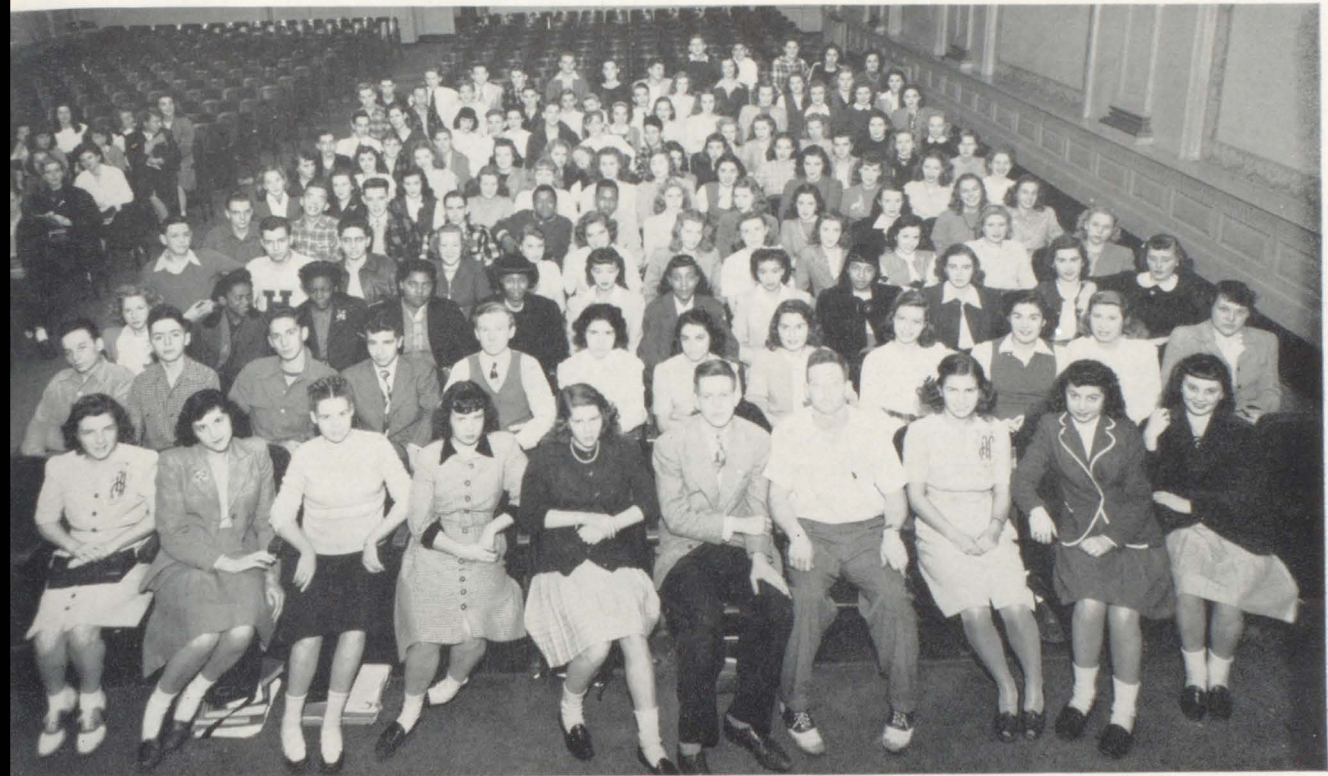

This year a large number of students turned out for the election of their officers. After all votes cast had been counted, a list of the Junior Class officers was posted. Robert Paul, vice-president of the class when they were Sophomores, was elected president. Jean Keilly was elected vice-president to preside over the meetings in the absence of the president. June Roche, secretary, records the minutes of the meetings, and the finances are entrusted to Alfred Smith, the treasurer.

The Junior Class advisers, Miss Taft, Miss Abbott, Miss Huff, and Mr. Rago are always ready to assist where possible to help make the Junior Class successful.

The Junior Prom is one of the most important annual features of the Junior Class. This year the Prom is scheduled for June 21st and promises to be one of the outstanding events of the year. Miss Covell is planning the decorations—a sure sign that the same type of attractive decorations will grace the occasion again this year. Miss Taft has charge of the refreshments, posters, tickets, and the general planning for the prom. A part of the dues collected by representatives in each Junior English class is used to finance the prom.

A sum of money was again presented for the further development of the public address system being installed in the school. At the end of the year the class also makes an award of five dollars to the member of the class who earns the highest average during the year.

IN the four able students who were chosen to lead this year's Sophomore Class we find an outstanding example of the old spirit of "git-up-and-go," typifying the entire class. Each year the Sophomore Classes have been participating more and more in school activities and thus slowly eliminating the old upperclass "privileges." The Sophomore Class of '47 is making a large move in the right direction.

The second year in high school plays a major role in a student's future career because at this time the students begin to think more seriously of what they plan to do after school. Aptitudes and weaknesses show themselves, and the choice of college or jobs begins to occupy an important place in the spotlight.

To lead them in this important year in their high school careers the class chose popular Sonja

Johnsen. Rita Fagan was picked to aid Sonja in her many duties. Evelyn Terjesen is secretary, and David Anderson is treasurer.

Sonja is active in many extra-curricular activities and plans to study nursing after graduating from Hempstead High in '49. Most of Rita Fagan's time is taken up by her cheerleading activities. She hopes to become an airline stewardess sometime in the not too distant future. Evelyn, who is also active in school affairs, has not decided on her future as yet. Dave is studying mechanical engineering and would like to attend the University of Wisconsin.

This year the Sophomore Class again has capable Mrs. Greenlund as its adviser. Miss Tripp and Mr. McGregor are her assistants. They are always prepared to lend a helping hand to any member of the class.

CLASS

FRESHMAN

THIS year's Freshman Class was one of the largest in the history of Hempstead High School. There is no use in trying to fool this year's Freshmen with the traditional high school joke. You couldn't tell them to take the elevator to the third floor or the subway to the bandbox. No, they are really an intelligent group of students. They had no trouble in getting themselves accustomed to high school life, and, by their hard work, they have shown that they can be relied upon to support the school activities.

One of the high spots of their first year in high school was the Senior-Freshman Party. At this occasion the Senior girls carry gigantic teddy-bears, while the Freshmen girls suck on their lolly-pops and carry dolls.

By popular vote they have elected their class officers. Lee Dluginsky, an up-and-coming Freshman, was elected president. Lee plans to become a physical education teacher and will probably attend Cortland State Teachers College after high school. His right-hand officer is another capable Freshman, Carrol Nostrand, vice-president. The minutes of every meeting are carefully kept by the secretary, Barry Cuttrell. The bank books are balanced by treasurer Leroy Carpenter.

More activities have been made available to the Freshmen this year than in previous years. They have demons'trated their talent in dramatics; they have also made a good showing in class football, baseball, and all of the many other activities.

The four years of high school will pass rapidly for these new Freshmen. Hempstead High will be proud of this class, and we wish them all the luck through the next three years.

Miss Farrow and Miss Joyce are the Class Advisers.

Clare Henry, David Savage.

THE General Organization of the Hempstead High School is made up of the Student Council and the Home Room Representatives. David Savage, president of the Student Council, also serves as president of the G.O., and Clare Henry, president of the Home Room Representatives, is the G.O. vice-president.

The G.O. is supported by the sale of G.O. tickets. The Colonial and The Patriot are aided financially by this important organization. For instance, the newly-added pictures of this year's Patriot were a direct result of this aid. The G.O. also pays the fees of our assembly speakers and for the use of films. It is the G.O. which furnishes the school with the annual Christmas trees and their trimmings.

Together with the Footlight Club the G.O. sponsored a magazine subscription drive which helped raise funds for a new stage curtain in the auditorium. The G.O. also sponsored a tea-dance to which the admission was a bundle of old clothes per person. The proceeds of this dance were sent to the war-stricken students of a school in Holland.

This year the G.O. held a luncheon in honor of two South American students. These guests, one from Argentina and the other from Peru, came to this country to attend a forum in New York.

At the conclusion of each year the G.O. awards a gold key to each of the five most outstanding Senior girls and the five most outstanding Senior boys.

GENERAL ORGANIZATION

STUDENT COUNCIL

ON the second and fourth Monday of each month you may find the members of the Student Council busily engaged in discussing or voting on important school issues. Miss Foster, the popular and efficient adviser, oversees the meetings and is always willing to help in any way that she possibly can. The Student Council consists of the heads and chiefs of all clubs, classes, organizations, and activities in the school. David Savage is the industrious president, while Carroll Hamlet officiates in the absence of the president. The minutes are recorded by Nancy Whaley, and Edward Brown is in charge of the finances of the organization. This year a new office, that of parliamentarian, is being filled by Peter Hinrich.

This year for the first time the Student Council has become affiliated with the Nassau League of Student Councils, to which all high schools of Nassau County belong. The purpose of this organization is to promote better understanding and relationships among the schools.

This year, also, the Student Council has awarded an "H" to the girl and the boy who have shown exceptional leadership in extra-curricular activities.

The Student Council has also sponsored the magazine subscription drive as well as two assemblies. One was a student talent assembly which was a great success and one enjoyed by all; at the other assembly Edward Brown and Irene Hundzinski spoke about Boys' State and Girls' State. The Student Council has also been making a study of student government.

HOME ROOM REPRESENTATIVES

THOSE busy boys and girls who go sailing around during the fourth period are the Home Room Representatives or Home Room "Reps." These students are responsible for many of your class activities.

Every home room class or study hall has its "Rep." These students attend to all business which concerns the students. Their duties are many, come often, and include a very wide range. It isn't as gay a life as it may appear to be. It definitely is not all running around the halls and getting out of fourth period classes. (Although we admit that doesn't detract from the job too much.)

The Home Room Representatives are under the direction of Miss Foster, who also directs the Student Council. This is one of the reasons that the Student Council and the Home Room Representatives work together so closely on many occasions. The president is Clare Henry, and the secretary is Peggy Vollmer. Clare ably directs the meetings of the "Reps" with little trouble to Miss Foster.

The Representatives decide when collections are to be taken, and they help with getting talent for our popular student participation assembly programs, to name only two of their important duties.

Best of luck from the members of Hempstead High to the Home Room Reps in the excellent job they are doing for us. We are gratefully appreciative of the time and effort that they so willingly put forth.

THIS edition of the Colonial, as has been the case with previous editions of our High School Annual, has been produced for the Graduating Class by members of the Junior Class with the aid of the Colonial advisers. This year Mr. Prahl and Mr. Fish were the advisers to the editorial staff. Miss Blaisdell advised the business staff, and the art staff and its work was supervised by Miss Field.

This year the editorial staff, together with several members of the business staff, met for the Home Room period in the main library. This served as a short meeting during which the day's work was discussed.

The most important job of all, that of Editor-in-Chief, was ably performed by Christopher Wolke. Carolyn Rippe served as assistant editor. In addition to this, Carolyn was also picture editor. The remainder of her staff, which worked on the taking, selecting, and arranging of the pictures, included Eleanor Morgenstern and Jean Stubbs.

The Senior committee worked on all of the material concerning Seniors. This included alphabetizing and arranging Senior pictures, and taking care of the Senior play and Senior Class write-ups. In addition to this, they also did the three other class write-ups. Mary Ann Buttner was the editor of this hard-working group, which consisted of Alice Egan, Peggy Jean Wishart, Albert Fay, and Richard Worth.

The club write-ups were edited by Anne Van Bourgondien and her staff, of which Annis Thompson, Doris Morton, and Russell Craig were members.

The activities staff, which wrote up the material pertaining to service squads and other activities, had Arlene Siegel as chief. Diane Thommen and Marianne Bolanz completed this group.

The fine sports coverage was done by Robert Paul's committee, which included Laurence Crevoiserat, Howard Voelker, Leo Overhiser, Harry Mendelsohn, and Eileen Howard. Eileen took care of the girls' sports.

Joan Hutcheson filled the very important post of business editor. Evelyn Battista was in charge of circulation. The business staff solicited advertisements which helped finance the publishing of the book. This energetic group consisted of Naida Ollmann, Eva Rosenberg, Constance Reis, Millicent Stoye, Alvina Braun, Isabel Siegel, Barbara Dahlman, Carolyn Garrett, Evelyn Herzog, David Meeker, and John Bates.

This year, Carol Dauphin was the capable chairman of the art staff. She was ably assisted by the other members who included Helen Karp, Frances Wingle, Joan Rothmann, and Dick Bohan.

In selecting the nature theme for this year's book, the staff chose a rather unusual subject, which was something of a departure from previous themes. The well-known expressions which are used to feature the divider pages are illustrated by animated birds and animals which are typical of that particular expression. Together with the new color plan of the cover, the staff feels that the result is truly pleasing and appropriate.

THE PATRIOT

EVERY other Friday the students of Hempstead High School await the home room period when our familiar newspaper, "The Patriot," is distributed. The boys and girls rush to see who was high scorer at the game last week and if Mary Jones is still going steady with John Smith, or, who was elected as the new president of the Student Council. However, few students realize exactly how the paper is put together bit by bit and then finally sent to the printer.

First, the Editor-in-Chief, who this year is the efficient and popular "Ed" Brown, calls together the other five editors, who are Alan Distler, managing editor; Sylvia Goodheim, school editor; Shirley Duffee, contributing editor; "Pat" Johnston, exchange editor; and Emily Schuppel, feature editor. They decide what they are to have in the paper as far as news is concerned. Then the school editor, Sylvia Goodheim, calls together the junior reporters and gives them their assignments. The junior reporters are Susan Fuchs, John Hoffman, Barbara Jones, Paul Martin, Doris Morton, Olga Socol, Howard Voelker, and Richard Worth. Working under the capable supervision of their editor, Emily Schuppel, are the feature writers Angie Abbatello and Irene Karter. Other writers on the paper are the sports writers, who are Joseph Sparacio, Mary Ann Timcher, and Theodore Turnau. After everyone has finally written up his assignments, they are checked over by the editors, and then sent to the ever-faithful typists, who are Joan Crocker, Mary Frisenda, Joan Harrigan, Dorothy Levitsky, Stella Lipsky, Jean Maddock, Shirley Mathisen, Maureen Riordan, Veronica Smith, and Lorraine Troccoli. While the stories are being typed, the editors compose the "dummy" and decide where the stories should go. After the stories have been typed, the headline writers, who are Lois Miglino, Carol Morgan, David Savage, Arlene Siegel, and Marie Stein devise the headlines for every article and story in the paper. Of course, the stories aren't the only thing in the paper. This year "something new has been added," namely, photographs and pen sketchings. The staff photographers are John Iddings and Harold Roeth, and the staff artist is Richard Bohan. The business manager, Clare Henry, with her loyal assistants, Joan Budd, Victoria Lynn, James Adams, Ira Gessner, Richard Drake, Mary McDermott, and Barbara Booth, are in charge of the ads and the financial details of the paper. After the paper has returned from the printer, it is distributed by the circulation assistants, Ruth Whitted, Eileen Callahan, Joan Datz, Evelyn Jankowski, Anne Jankowski, Albert Fay, and Robert Scheff. The entire paper is under the capable advisership of Mr. Goldy, Miss Naftalin, and Mr. Turnbull.

This year fifteen girls and boys of the Patriot Staff, along with their adviser, Miss Naftalin, were invited to visit the Nassau Daily Review-Star for a day and edit the Teen-Age page. Under the understanding guidance of Miss Betty Patterson, who is in charge of the Teen-Age page, they worked all day over their typewriters, and finally by the end of the day, had produced two pages that they thought just "couldn't be beat," in accordance with the laws of journalism. They wrote and typed up their stories, edited and headlined them, and finally, after the young geniuses had gotten their masterpieces close to perfection, they sent them off to the printer. The young, budding journalists at last trudged home contentedly, tired but extremely happy after having spent a truly wonderful day.

Indeed, though the life of a "Patrioteer" is definitely one of hard work, there is still a great deal of fun mixed in with it.

SENIOR SERVICE SQUAD

THE Senior Service Squad was organized in 1924. Since that time this group of girls has become one of the most important squads in our school. The squad's appropriate motto is "Conduct, Loyalty, and Scholarship."

This year the squad is composed of twenty-three senior girls, each of whom has been carefully selected by Mrs. Hueston, the Registrar of our school. Mrs. Hueston is also the adviser to the group. Marion Schott is the competent chief of the 1946-1947 squad. The work of assistant chief goes to hard-working Doris Baker.

The most important duty of each girl is to be a hostess of Hempstead High School. In this position it is her duty to welcome parents, students, and other visitors to the school. In addition to this task the girls have many others. Included among them are filing, alphabetizing, and running errands. Another is to take over a class when its teacher is unable to be present. The most familiar task, known to all students, is delivering the home-room notices. Each girl works one period every day in the office. In addition to this she is required to serve the ninth and tenth periods for three weeks during the year. This is known as "late-duty."

Mrs. Hueston and her squad deserve much praise for their faithful service to our school.

JUNIOR SECRETARIES

THE Junior Secretaries are the very attractive and glamorous girls who work in Office 3. They are at the service of faculty and students at any and all periods of the school day.

Both for Office 3 and in Hempstead High School the Junior Secretaries are indeed very important to the smooth operation of the school organization. They are also of invaluable assistance to the students. Maybe you don't think they're so helpful about the time they walk in with one of those long white notices especially for you, but none the less it is true.

The Chief of the Junior Secretaries this year is Helen Papazissimos, and her assistant is Joan Datz. Adelaide di Monda is the secretary, and Pauline Boulus is the treasurer. The girls will tell you that they definitely do have money in their treasury; however, they usually spend it all on one big party at the end of the school year.

The Staff in Office 3 is a large one. There are six or seven girls in the office every period. The girls are asked to stay to do late work for a few days of each year. However, their main jobs include running many errands to and from classes, ushering in students who have been summoned by Mrs. Foster or Mr. Moore, making out late slips, and many other necessary details.

As in previous years, the Junior Secretaries are again under the able direction of Mrs. Foster.

IF, during a study hall, you should suddenly be awakened to the realization that you have just received a white slip from your study hall teacher, beckoning you to room 80, you'll know that you're about to visit your Grade Adviser. The Grade Advisers are a very important part of Hempstead High School, for they keep many of the confidential records concerning the marks of the students. Most Freshmen visit their Adviser once or twice, perhaps more often, during their first year at Hempstead High; sometimes Sophomores and Juniors are summoned there also.

The Adviser Aides are the only service squad in Hempstead High in which there are both boys and girls working together. It is the duty of the girls to keep the record cards neat and well organized, to write out the slips that are given to the pupils, to keep an orderly appointment book so that a complete record of pupil visits is maintained. They also assist the teacher for whom they are working in any other possible way. To the boys falls the duty of bringing around those familiar white slips to the study halls at the beginning of the period.

This year Nancy Jungblut is the chief of the Adviser Aides; her assistant is Douglas Livingston, and Anna Gunnarsson is the treasurer.

This group of dependable aides is in charge of Miss Silver.

SPANISH CLUB

EVERY student who studies Spanish realizes the importance and convenience of having a place where the language may be practiced and enjoyed. El Circulo Espanol, the Spanish Club, is that place.

The club, under the direction of Miss Zaremba, convenes once a month. The members chose John Zondag to officiate as president, with Joyce Santa Maria to assist him as vice-president. The duties of both the secretary and the treasurer are handled by Kathleen Flemming.

The meetings are opened with a brief business discussion, with the remainder of the meeting period being devoted to broadening the members' knowledge of the social life and customs of the people of Spanish-speaking countries. Sometimes Spanish songs are sung or Spanish records listened to, while at other times Spanish games, such as fortune-telling, are played. At Christmas time the members made Spanish Christmas cards, which were sold to sponsor a festive Spanish Christmas party.

The club also has an interesting and enjoyable social life. Recently, when the members went to New York City to see a Spanish movie, they dined in a Spanish restaurant. They are now planning another trip to New York, this time to visit a Spanish museum. They are also contemplating a picnic and the presentation of a Spanish play and movie, which the club will sponsor for all Spanish enthusiasts.

ASSEMBLY SQUAD

THE Assembly Squad is one of the very important organizations of Hempstead High School. Without it those much enjoyed assemblies would not have been possible.

The members of the squad conduct the pupils from their classes into the auditorium at all assemblies. There are several different stages to getting a class from its room into the auditorium and seated. The boys must first call for the class and conduct it into the halls; then they are kept orderly and quiet so as not to disturb other classes; the class finally gets to the auditorium, and then they are directed into the proper aisles and seats. It is definitely not the easiest job in the world; however, as a reward, one gets to see all of the assemblies. In addition, the squad enjoys the appreciation of everyone, including the faculty.

The squad's officers read like "Who's Who in Hempstead." David Savage is president, Edward Brown is his assistant, and William Braun takes care of the treasury. To top this off, our ever-popular Mr. Franz is the squad's adviser. The Assembly Squad includes a large staff of boys, each of whom bears the responsibility for his own individual job. There are bell-ringers, hall guards, and class guards, all divisions of the same organization.

LIBRARY STAFF

THE business-like girls in the Main and Senior Libraries every period are part of the regular Library Staff. They are at the service of faculty and students every period of the day. They are an invaluable help to everyone concerned with the libraries.

Nellie Satterly is president of the organization this year, and Carol Kranz is vice-president. Miss Rhodes supervises the staff with the help of Mrs. Cullen and Mrs. Anderson.

The girls do all the clerical work that one would find in a library. They file cards, shelve books, and run innumerable errands for the librarians. Their most important job is taking the library slips to study halls. This job occupies most of their time on library duty, since students who sign the wrong slip or no slip at all may get into difficulties with Office 3. This should be remembered the next time when, in the midst of the latest "Rover Boy" adventure, a pleasant voice asks, "Study Hall?"

The members of the staff enjoy their work and usually ask to be continued in their jobs for the next year. Some of them hope to enter library schools on graduating from Hempstead. The work is interesting, and although the library may seem quiet or even dull, the staff is always having a good time, even if it is only a candy bar shared secretly in the book room.

SKETCH CLUB

THE Sketch Club invites the promising young artists of our school into its membership. Open to girls from their Freshman to their Senior years, it offers to its members an opportunity for the demonstration and development of talent as an avocation.

The club meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, and is advised by Miss Covell. Evhenia Gretchen was elected president, and Nancy Brown was chosen vice-president. Doris Morton is secretary and takes the minutes; Susan Von Elm, the treasurer, collects the dues.

This year a new system of holding the meetings was introduced and is now successfully used by the club. Because nearly half of the club consists of upperclassmen and the other half consists of lowerclassmen, the meetings are held in two divisions, one during the ninth period and one during the tenth period. Thus the two divisions function separately but with the same activities and plans. The Junior-Senior group is presided over by Evhenia Gretchen and the dues are collected by Doris Morton, who also writes the minutes. The Freshman-Sophomore group is under the direction of Nancy Brown, and Susan Von Elm has the double duty of taking the dues and writing the minutes.

The meetings are opened with a short business discussion covering such things as obtaining Sketch Club pins and the collection of dues. Plans for the Annual Fashion Design Contest, open to all members of the student body, and a Spring Fashion Show were also discussed. Following the business part of the meeting, the "artists" sketch either fellow club members or some other model, or draw sketches of still life.

CHORAL READING GROUP

THIS year a new club, called the Choral Reading Group, was formed. It was started by Miss Randall, who coaches the group in reciting aloud many different types of prose. At first the group did choral reading with the altos and sopranos saying the same thing; but, as they gained in experience and skill, they started orchestral reading. Orchestral reading is characterized by having the altos and sopranos say different words at the same time, in the same way that the various orchestral instruments are played together to produce symphonic music. Mr. Pill took charge of the group for this type of reading.

There are approximately fifty Sophomore girls and boys in the group. They were selected by their English teachers on the basis of their ability in speaking.

The first appearance made by this group was at an assembly in the Fall, at which time they were well received. At this first appearance they recited "If" by Rudyard Kipling, and "The Unlucky Apple." Their next appearance was at the Christmas program, when they recited "The Night Before Christmas" and "The Creation"—both very appropriate to that time of year. At one of the Spring Assemblies the group recited a very effective rendition of "The Congo" by Vachel Lindsay.

On March first this group went to New York City to see the play "Lady Windemere's Fan," which was very much enjoyed by all.

HALL COPS

HAVE you ever stepped out of class into our vacant halls during some period? If so, those gentlemen who greet you every few feet are the Hall Cops. Their cheerful question, "Got a pass?," always brightens the day (especially if you haven't got a pass).

Truly, though, the Hall Cops are one of the most necessary organizations in Hempstead High School. You can imagine what would happen if everybody who got an urge to wander just wandered! The efficiency of the Hall Cops prevents such a happening.

This year the Hall Cops are supervised by Mr. Rago, assisted by Miss Layton. Howard Collins is the Chief Lieutenant, and Ray Smith is his assistant. The Hall Cops are on duty periods one through nine. Each period there is a lieutenant on duty who takes the role, handles any difficulties, and has other special duties. There is nothing slap-dash or disorderly about the Hall Cops. The boys all have their assigned places and stay there. The cops have a very responsible job.

The Hall Cops ask for a position on the staff. They like their work and are a dependable group. They consider it an honor to belong to such an important organization in a large high school like Hempstead.

In addition to their Hall Cop duties, as most students know, the boys are also posted at the entrances to the school grounds. There they are responsible for a great deal of the neatness of our schoolyard.

ART CLUB

ON the first Monday of every month a group of aspiring young artists meets in Room 42. Miss Field, the adviser, oversees the meetings, while the president, Penny Gulde, conducts. The vice-president, Lorraine McMann, assists her. Lorraine Jeffers holds the office of secretary, and Gloria Newton holds the office of treasurer.

The meetings are usually opened with a business discussion and are later turned to work of an artistic nature. At some meetings the students paint, draw, or sketch illustrations or objects from still life. At other meetings the members are entertained by fellow-members of the Art Club.

Usually the Art Club has a course in metal design, and such objects as silver bracelets, pins and rings, or metal ashtrays and bookends are made. However, the metals necessary for this craft have been very difficult to obtain. A new material, called flexspon, has also been ordered for the club. This material is an amazing new plastic which comes in a liquid form and is simple to handle with a technique easily mastered in a few minutes. After the plastic has been worked into the desired creation, it hardens and can then be painted. Costume jewelry, plastic statues and figures, flowers, and vases are a few of the innumerable creations into which this wonderful substance can be shaped. With such a material as this at its disposal, the Art Club is bound to be the popular and instructive club that it is.

The club has also had several parties, one at Christmas time and others at various other holidays. On April nineteenth the group visited New York, where it attended the play "Lady Windemere's Fan."

CAFETERIA SQUAD

HEMPSTEAD High School's Cafeteria Squad has always had a tremendous job to perform this year; nevertheless they are handling it with the same good care that they have never failed to give it.

You never feel more thankful toward the Cafeteria Squad than when you come from a particularly gruelling class, and the good clean odors greet you as you step inside the Cafeteria doors. That's the kind of thing the students remember long after they have left Hempstead High and made their way up in the world.

The squad serves approximately twelve hundred very hungry students every school day. (We don't know why we add the "very hungry," as everybody knows that all members of Hempstead High School are always hungry.) In addition, this job is distributed over three periods. In many ways that makes the work much harder. However, the patience and courtesy of the Cafeteria Squad is always to be depended upon. Sometimes, when we see a boy or girl go blithely up to the cash register with hands full and then suddenly remember that they forgot to get their money out and complications set in, we wonder how the Squad does it. They certainly have our greatest respect and admiration.

The Cafeteria Squad is, as last year, under the able direction of Mr. Tobani. He is assisted by a staff which is part adult and part student. In return for their services, the students receive a delicious free lunch.

Two brand new additions to the cafeteria this year are the juke box and a soda fountain. Mr. Coyne makes for Hempstead High students their own sodas and sundaes plus pie a la mode if desired. The juke box is also very popular, as it gives the students an opportunity to do a little lindy during the lunch hour. The far corner of the cafeteria is a very popular spot this year.

GERMAN CLUB

THE German Club is organized for students who are interested in furthering their knowledge of German and Germany through songs, motion pictures, and other allied projects. The club activity is entirely extra-curricular, and attendance is in no way compulsory. The experiences in club activities are valuable to the student's in their understanding of foreign people, their language, their customs, and their cultural background.

The club is advised by Miss Gunther, assisted by Mr. Leusch, who served as an Army Interpreter in Europe before his discharge.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: Charles Louis, president; Marion Brohm, vice-president; Elsie Keiderling, secretary; and Ralph Nitt, treasurer.

At the meetings various activities were undertaken. Movies were shown describing Germany and Switzerland. At the annual "Weihnachtsfest" or Christmas Party, the members were entertained with German phonograph records, and German songs were sung. As usual, refreshments in keeping with the spirit of the season were served.

The January meeting was devoted to an interesting illustrated talk presented informally by Mr. Leusch on his experiences while studying in Switzerland. In his talk he emphasized the nature of the Swiss people, their customs, their government, and language.

At one of the meetings Miss Gunther entertained the club by giving an excellent talk on German classical music. Her music appreciation program consisted of a discussion of ballads written by such composers as Heinrich Heine and Johann Wolfgang Von Goethe. Phonograph records were played in order to show how the musicians had put the words to music. A brief discussion of the composers' lives followed.

The promising young violin virtuoso, Raymond Gnieweck, gave a concert featuring violin selections from works by eminent German composers at the April meeting. The club's activities ended with a banquet in June.

BLUE AND WHITE CORNER

THE Blue and White Corner is certainly a familiar part of Hempstead High School. Here students may purchase at cost, articles pertaining to school and which cannot be purchased elsewhere. The Corner is open during the lunch periods and also during the ninth period. In addition to its services to the school, the organization offers its members practical experience in retailing. It is also the center for the Lost and Found Department.

This year these efficient students, under the capable leadership of Mr. Davidson, have assumed responsibility for decorating the exhibition window next to the cafeteria.

COORDINATING SERVICE SQUAD

THE Coordinating Service Squad, formed this year for the first time, is the newest service organization of Hempstead High School. This efficient group is made up of Sophomore, Junior, and Senior girls, whose chief is the petite Clare Henry. The other girls include Anita Gaenzler, Jean Langdon, Joan Budd, Joan Distler, Dorothy Dluginski, Florence Vollmer, and Jane La Mar. The squad is advised by Mr. Pill.

Each girl, instead of having eighth and ninth period study halls, works in the stock room during those periods. Her job is to assist in preparing materials for the Grade Advisers.

STAMP CLUB

OUR philatelists meet the first Tuesday of every month under the able supervision of Mr. Holtz. Anyone interested in stamps may come to these meetings. They bring in duplicates and exchange stamps among themselves in order that they may increase their prized collections.

John Bates presides over these monthly meetings, and Edward Packett takes over the duties of secretary and treasurer.

One of the more interesting meetings of the year will be the stamp auction which is planned for the Spring. To this auction the members will bring stamps which will be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

RADIO CLUB

THE Radio Club, in its clubroom on the third floor, meets on the first and third Thursdays of every month.

Mr. Holtz is the adviser of this club. Carroll Hamlet wields the gavel at these meetings with the assistance of Crawford Bartlett, vice-president. The secretary-treasurer's position is filled by Stanley Szabronski.

Several members of the club are rebuilding the short-wave transmitter. At the present time there are four licensed radio amateurs in the group: Carroll Hamlet - W2QBR, Soter Harbolis - W2QBS, Norman Hosler - W2SFV, and Stanley Szabronski - W2RVO. Many other members are planning to get their licenses soon.

CAMERA CLUB

THE Camera Club is organized for students who are interested in broadening their knowledge of photography. The club meets once a month to discuss problems introduced by the members. They are assisted and advised by Mr. Smith.

John Iddings wields the gavel, and Harlow Cameron acts as his assistant; Donna MacKenzie is the secretary, and William Christ attends to the finances.

The members split up into two groups for the laboratory work. One group is composed of the advanced photographers, and the other is for the beginners. Each group meets once every other week.

The Administration loaned the club a sum of money which was added to the funds on hand for new equipment. When they became available, an enlarger, an electric printing box, and other improvements were purchased. With this new equipment the club members expect to produce some very good pictures.

The club submitted photographs of school activities for this book and also maintained the bulletin board outside of Office 2, where exceptionally good pictures were displayed.

DRAMATICS – MUSIC

MUCH of the entertainment at Hempstead High School is rendered by the Dramatics and the Music Departments.

There are two very fine dramatics clubs in Hempstead High. They are: the Footlight Club, for Juniors and Seniors; and the Curtain Call Club, for Freshmen and Sophomores. Each year the Footlight Club presents the "Footlight Frolics," a three-act play, and several one-act plays, a few of which are presented at assembly programs. Some of the Senior Footlight Club members are in the Senior Play. Much of the success of the Footlight Club is due to the fine direction of Miss Randall and her assistants. The Curtain Call Club, under the direction of Miss Linn, produces during the school year several one-act plays, and scenes from well-known three-act plays.

The Music Department consists of the Band, the Symphonic Orchestra, the A-Capella Choir, and the Girls Glee Club. These groups are in concert three times each year. This department also entertains in several assemblies during the year. The Band plays at all the football games and visits the Polo Grounds at least twice a year. It also participates in local parades. Besides giving concerts and performing at assembly programs, the Symphonic Orchestra and the Choir participate in the annual Christmas pageant. Much credit is due Miss Boyle and her assistants for their efforts, which resulted in the music groups of Hempstead High School being classified as one of the ten best high school music departments in the country.

ORCHESTRA

ONE of the most outstanding and popular activities of Hempstead High School is its well-known orchestra. The members of Hempstead High School have good reason to be proud of their orchestra, for it is known as one of the few complete symphonic high school orchestras in the entire United States. Besides this superb recognition we may also boast that it is classed with the ten most outstanding school orchestras in the country. This year, music played by these "musical geniuses" of Hempstead High School was broadcast over the Columbia Network along with that of five other orchestras, to represent Music and American Youth. Another honor that was bestowed upon these hard-working and well-deserving boys and girls was that of being chosen as one of the four high school groups from the Eastern Half of the United States to appear in a concert at the National Conference of Music Education, held at Scranton, Pennsylvania, on April twenty-fourth.

As usual this year the orchestra has played for numerous activities in the school and in the community and has presented four public concerts as well as several school programs and assemblies.

We are proud to say that the orchestra, under the able direction of Miss Boyle, has rightfully achieved success, and that it is complete in symphonic instrumentation. We would almost say that our orchestra is the school's "pride and joy."

CHOIR

THIS year, as always, the A-Cappella Choir of Hempstead High School took part in all of our many musical programs. Most students will agree that Christmas just wouldn't be Christmas without the joyous carols and hymns sung by the young voices at our annual Christmas program in the high school auditorium.

The Choir is composed of eighty voices this year and continues under the excellent direction of Miss McQueen.

On several occasions this Winter the Choir was sponsored by prominent local organizations; among them were the Hempstead Women's Club and the Hempstead Parent-Teacher Association.

Many of the Choir's songs have been arranged by Fred Waring in the past years. This year they presented another delightfully arranged composition entitled "Dry Bones." This song was unusually well received by the student body as well as the large crowd of music-lovers who gathered at the annual mid-winter concert. The secular, incidental, and sacred music that the Choir presents is always amusing, interesting, and stirring, as well as highly stimulating.

As in past years the A-Cappella Choir will again appear in our Memorial Day program. This is one of the year's more popular and appealing programs. The music is both beautiful and fitting for such an occasion.

As the conclusion to another busy year the Choir will again take part in the Baccalaureate services at Graduation.

BAND

THE pupils of Hempstead High School certainly have good reason to be proud of their symphonic band. When we see our classmates marching together on the football field in their well-known gay uniforms and led by their high-stepping Drum Major-ette, Peggy Wishart, every person in the grandstands thrills with a feeling of excitement and pride. Each of the one hundred twenty-five members of the band deserves a great deal of individual credit and appreciation from all of us for the many hours they have spent practicing under their expert leaders, Miss Boyle and Mr. Albinski. They travel with the football team and play at all the games. Known as the finest as well as the snappiest marching band on Long Island, they are noted for the complex maneuvers which they perform on the football field.

This year our band received three invitations to play at professional football games. They visited Ebbets Field once, where they played for the Dodgers; they also received two invitations to play at the Polo Grounds for the Giants. On each of these occasions their performances were broadcast over the National Broadcasting System and were also televised.

Our band also performs symphonic concerts. This year they presented three public concerts as well as taking part in several assembly programs. They have also played at various recreational and patriotic events.

FOOTLIGHT CLUB

THE Footlight Club is composed of those Juniors and Seniors who have a liking for dramatics. This year, as in the past years, this popular club has been sponsored by Miss Randall.

The Footlight Club was organized for two specific purposes — first, to provide, for those students who are interested, an opportunity for training in the many and varied phases of dramatic activity; and, secondly, to bring the numerous results of these activities to the remainder of the student body, as well as to those students who actually participate in these dramatic feats. The many activities of the club are planned with these two aims in view.

The first performance of the year was the assembly presentation, "The Boor", a Russian farce written by Anton Chekov. The next presentation was a matinee performance of "Fly Away Home". Then another group presented "The Giants Stair", written by Wilbur Daniel Steele. This was also presented as a matinee for the enjoyment of the school.

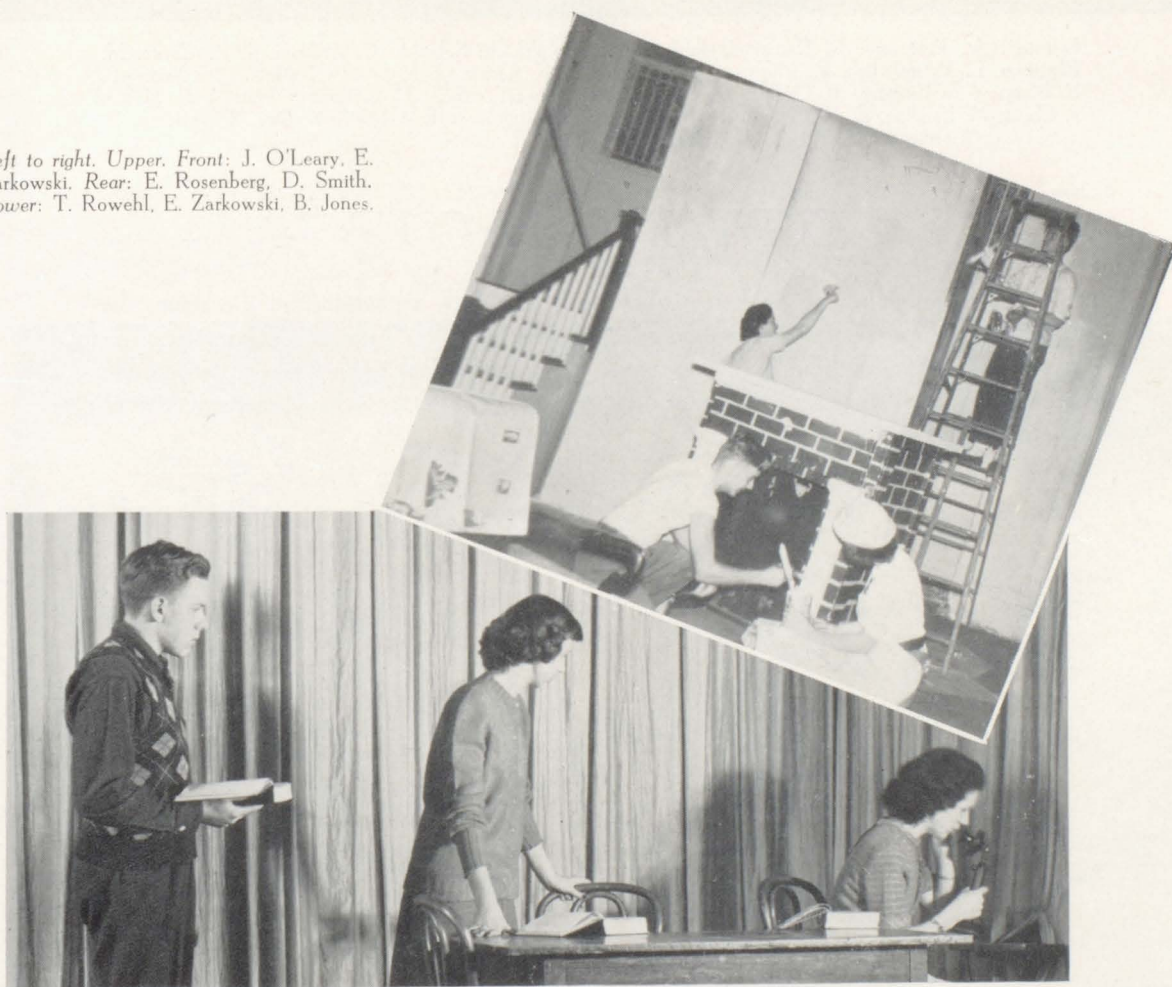

The meetings are presided over by Irene Hundzinski, and in her absence they are taken over by Ted Rowehl. Anita Gaenzler records the minutes of the meetings, and Marion Loweth is the point-secretary. David Savage attends to the finances, and the club scrapbook is kept by Barbara Hearn. Membership in the club is earned through the point system.

It has been more difficult than usual this year to plan a program, due to unexpected losses of properties. Because of this loss, the usual program had to be curtailed to some extent. The annual magazine sale was well supported by the Footlight Club in order to help finance the much-needed replacements to their properties.

All students with a desire to take part in plays, and who are willing to do whatever possible in the production of these plays, are welcomed to the club's membership.

CURTAIN CALL CLUB

TO the Freshman and Sophomore boys and girls with aspirations for the stage, the Curtain Call Club offers unlimited opportunities. Miss Linn is the adviser. The president's gavel is wielded by Robert Corrie; the vice-president's office is filled by Matilda Pantason, while Arlene Schmidt writes the minutes as secretary, and Treasurer Clarence O'Donnell collects the dues.

Every meeting is preceded by a short business conference, and then a program is presented. The program chairman is Rowena Whitehouse, who sees to it that each meeting is provided with an interesting and entertaining program. These programs include such things as plays and skits. One of the first plays presented was a Henry Aldrich episode entitled "What a Life" by Clifford Goldsmith. This was presented in four scenes at four different meetings. The club also presented a radio skit at one of its meetings.

There is also a preview committee under the chairmanship of Ellen Fitzgerald. This committee previews all the plays and skits to be offered. All of the productions are under the direction of the students, and some are written by the students.

For the second year the club is successfully using the point system. Each student receives one point for every activity he participates in, whether it is acting, directing, selling tickets, or changing scenery. The purpose of the point system is to give an incentive to the members to keep active in the club, since full membership is attained only after ten points are accredited. Joan Gordon is in charge of keeping a record of the points. At present a special committee is also working on enlarging the club's constitution.

PALLAS CLUB

THE Pallas Club, the Sophomore girls honor club, has been very busy this year, being of service to their school in every way possible. The purposes of this club are to enjoy worthwhile activities together and to stimulate scholarship among the students.

The girls in the Pallas Club are all-around students. Most of them belong to other clubs and have joined in other activities such as the Greek Games and cheerleading. These girls are hard-working and have been a service club as well as an honor club, helping the school and the faculty in many ways. When the Parent-Teachers Association had their Visiting Day, the girls helped by acting as guides for the parents. They also helped as ushers at Forum meetings, and they have sold candy at the basketball games. While they discharged these services for the school and when they had their club meetings, they were under the able supervision of Miss Gunnerson, who is advising the club for the first time this year.

Joan Distler is president, and Martha Hamilton is vice-president of the club. Julia Dillon is the treasurer, and Louise Loeffler is the secretary.

At the meetings the members first discuss business, and after the business part of the meeting they have some sort of entertainment. They have invited several people to speak on subjects that were of interest to members.

At Christmas time a party was held and included games and refreshments. As the Freshmen and Sophomores will work together in the Pen and Ink Club when they become Juniors and Seniors, the Pallas Club gave a party in February for the Pioneer Club, which is the honor club for the Freshman girls.

CENTRAL SERVICE SQUAD

THE Central Service Squad was founded in 1939. Since that time many of the duties of Office 2 have been performed by the members of this squad.

This year the squad consists of eleven girls, each of whom has been recommended by the faculty of the commercial department, and further selected by Dr. Maure on the basis of marks, personality, and character.

Mrs. Newill and Miss Dickson are now in charge of the efficient group. All the girls have been trained for their numerous duties which include answering the telephone, running errands, and filing. Also, when a teacher is not able to be present in class, one of these girls takes over. In addition to this, the girls have another task: that of operating the switchboard. This is their favorite task.

Two girls are on duty each period of the day. In addition to serving this period, each girl is required to serve during the ninth and tenth periods for three weeks of the year.

Being a member of this squad gives each girl excellent experience, not to mention the valuable contribution of this squad to our school.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

THE girls who make up the Commercial Club are girls who are taking the Commercial Course and are interested in doing typing and other commercial work as a sort of service club. They do small typing jobs for the teachers and general assignments for the school and for the General Organization. As well as being a help to the school, these girls are helping themselves through additional practice in typing.

The club meets once a month, and at the meetings they discuss business first, after which they have some sort of entertainment. At the November meeting a Thanksgiving party was held, complete with eats and games. To the January meeting they invited a speaker to discuss good grooming and cosmetics, in which the girls of course are interested. In the Spring the girls will visit the telephone building to make a tour of the switchboards and offices.

These girls are under the able advisership of Miss Bringham and Miss De- genhardt. The president of the club is Eugenia Keravich, and the vice-president is Mildred Talgo. Eleanor Hatzelman is the secretary, and Nina Jacobs is the treasurer.

NATURAL SCIENCE CLUB

THE Natural Science Club is made up of a group of students who enjoy working in the fields of science dealing with biology, botany, geology, and astronomy. These students, wishing to study science further, meet every two weeks, and at these meetings they do things which are both educational and enjoyable.

The president of this club is Lois Miglino, and Golda Weil is the vice-president. Emily Schuppel has the double duties of secretary and treasurer. Mr. Lind is their adviser. The program committee consists of two girls: Golda Weil, who is the chairman, and Marguerite Seelbach, who assists her.

The Natural Science Club has been extremely active this year, although it was organized rather late, due to a change in advisers. They have been doing very many things, both inside of school and out, all activities being planned for them by their program committee. They have seen several motion pictures on natural science; they have also looked through microscopes at different objects. These things they did in school at the regular meetings. Besides this, they have taken trips outside of school to such places as Hofstra College to look at the equipment in the laboratories there, to New York City to visit the Planetarium, and to Seaford to visit the museum of Mr. Fox. Once they went on a hike to Hempstead Lake State Park, and at another time they had a night meeting to look at the stars.

PATHFINDERS CLUB

THE Pathfinders are composed of the boy honor students of the Freshman Class. To obtain membership in this club a boy must have a report card average of not less than ninety percent in four major subjects. The eligible boys receive invitations to join the club, after the first report cards have been mailed home. The aim of this club is to promote scholarship among the boys of the Freshman Class.

The officers of the club this year are: Carleton Moore, president; Stuart Levine, vice-president; Henry Rosenberg, secretary; and Stanley Birer, treasurer. Mr. Hamburg advises the group. He left for the Army in 1943 and returned to his former position only last year.

The name "Pathfinders" fits this group very well, since they are the top members of their class during the first year spent in high school. Their first impression is usually the best one, and it follows them through school. These boys are highly respected by the faculty and by the student body. Due to their position in an honor society, they are often invited to join honorary service squads and to hold privileged positions in the school.

This year a special effort was put forth to encourage better attendance at the meetings in order to carry out the club's activities.

Each year a prize of five dollars is awarded to the boy in the club with the highest average for the year, based upon report card marks. This prize is presented at the annual honor assembly.

PENTAGON

THE Pentagon is the Junior-Senior Boys' Honorary Club. This year a record number of boys were eligible for membership in the organization, in that there were some thirty members coming out for the first meeting.

The primary purpose of this club is to be of service to the school in as many ways as possible. This year a number of the boys are on the Assembly Squad and in various other organizations in the school. Aside from this, the members of the club are participating in the publishing and editing of this year's Senior Play programs. Because nearly every member of the club is taking part in various other services about the school, it is difficult to engage in an extensive program of activities.

Each year five honor keys are presented to those five boys who are selected as the most outstanding boys of the Senior Class, and a fifty-dollar scholarship is awarded to the Senior boy who best qualifies for it.

At the first meeting the club elected its officers. Peter Hinrichs was chosen as president, and in his absence the vice-president, Jack Fraser, takes over. The secretary, William Blumenthal, records the minutes of these meetings, and John Zondag handles the financial matters. The chairman of the Senior Play Programs Committee is David Savage.

The activities of the club have progressed very smoothly this year, and it is the goal of all the members and their capable adviser, Mr. Misner, that this year's record will exceed the excellent record that has been established in the past by the Pentagon Club.

PIONEER CLUB

THOSE Freshman girls who are able to maintain as high an average as is required by the Administration for admittance to the club, comprise the Pioneer Club.

At their first meeting these girls started out with an election of officers. Majorie Fleming was chosen as president, with June Christ being elected to wield the gavel in her absence. Dorothy Dunn takes care of the minutes and the other secretarial duties. The financial situation is closely watched over by Vincetta Sawicki.

At the end of the first half of the year, the Pioneers were all very sorry to lose their adviser, Mrs. Daube; however, the loss was replaced when the club welcomed Miss Botsford, who is now the new adviser to the club.

The Pioneers have the second Thursday of every month as their regular meeting date. In February they had the good fortune of being the guests of the Pallas Club at a Valentine's Party given in their honor. The members of both of these honor clubs had a very enjoyable time together.

By January, sixteen more Freshman girls had raised their averages high enough to attain membership in the Pioneers. The regular members got together, and an initiation was held.

The motto of the club, "Perseverance Overcomes Everything", helps to inspire the girls to maintain their high averages. The aims and goals of the club are several. The main purposes are: to create higher standards of scholarship throughout the Freshman year, to promote the maintenance of high scholastic ideals, and lastly, to encourage each of the girls toward creating an interest in school activities during the Freshman year.

CARPE DIEM SODALITAS

THE Carpe Diem Sodality, or Latin Club, is now one of the most popular clubs in our High School. Its membership has more than doubled since last year.

It meets once a month, and John Hofmann presides over the meetings as First Consul. He is assisted by Second Consul, Joan Weaver. The Scribe, Nancy Mann, records the doings of the club, and the Quaestor, Ellen Fitzgerald, manages the club's finances. Edward Hartman, as Curile Aedile, has the duty of planning for the entertainment at the several meetings of the club. Miss Winter, the club's very capable adviser, has counseled the members so that they had a very interesting program for the year.

Early in the Fall, part of the club went to see "State of the Union". Following this they visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art, where they explored the Roman section. Later a second group enjoyed seeing "Cyrano de Bergerac".

A Christmas party was held, during which the members participated in a program of Christmas music, after which refreshments were served. They have also played Roman games at their meetings. At one meeting the members made a study of Latin religious music.

A few members of the club who were students in the Virgil class went to the Metropolitan Opera House to see a performance of the opera "Lohengrin". The purpose, in addition to enjoyment, was to compare the German epic with the Latin epic.

Each year prizes are awarded to those students who receive the highest marks in the Latin Regents Examinations. This year the Latin Club awarded three prizes of five dollars each to each of three students receiving a mark of 99 percent.

TUPIAR CLUB

THE Tupiar Club is composed of Junior and Senior students who are interested in furthering their knowledge of higher mathematics. The club's namesake is the well-known formula for finding the circumference of a circle,  $2\pi R$ . Under the leadership of "Pop" Hayes, the club has enjoyed prosperity, as indicated by the membership. Most of the members are from "Pop's" intermediate and advanced algebra classes. Juniors and Seniors are eligible, and in order to join must have passed plane geometry and be taking or have passed intermediate algebra or trigonometry.

Officers were elected at the first meeting. They are: Donald Forsyth, president; Jordan Natsch, vice-president; Estelle Williams, secretary; and Theron Banks, treasurer.

This year, as in the past, the members learned how to use the slide rule, a very valuable piece of equipment for doing calculations quickly and easily. With this piece of apparatus, one can find square root, simple multiplications, and other arithmetical functions. In addition to this, the members computed the value of pi as demonstrated by Pythagoras long ago.

As educational entertainment the members saw three films about geometry. They were "Locus", "Congruent Figures", and "Lines and Angles". Other films were shown periodically throughout the year. Speakers from various colleges entertained at several meetings with mathematical tricks, puzzles, and short-cuts.

Each year a prize of five dollars is awarded to the Senior who has the highest average in mathematics in his Senior year. The purpose of the award is to stimulate interest in higher marks. To raise the money for this prize, members sold ice cream at the J. V. football games.

JUNTO CLUB

THE Junto Club is composed of the scholastic honor students among the boys of the Sophomore Class. The club is advised by Mr. Rago.

The officers of the club this year are: George Gale, president; Peter Gaenzler, vice-president; Robert Corrie, secretary; and Richard Wansor, treasurer.

Each year the club offers prizes of three dollars and two dollars to the first and second highest honor students respectively.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

THE members of Le Cercle Francais are students who are interested in the French language and the French way of life. Under the guidance of Mrs. Young they play French games and listen to French records. They plan to give a prize of five dollars to the student who gets the highest mark on the Regents examination in French.

The president of this year's group is Yvonne Lemesnager, with Richard Napoli as vice-president. Anita Gaenzler is secretary and Virginia Murphy is treasurer.

SCIENCE CLUB

THE Science Club is organized for students who want to learn more about Physics and Chemistry and their practical applications. The group is advised by Mr. Faust and Mr. Lints.

The officers of this year's group are: Everett Winter, president; Lee Dunbar, vice-president; and Norman Innes, secretary-treasurer.

An interesting program is planned for each meeting. Some of the members plan experiments in their home "labs" and demonstrate them at a meeting. Here they are explained and their possibilities are discussed by all.

HEALTH SERVICE

THE girls whom you find so ably assisting Miss Virginia Best, our school nurse, in Room 29, are all members of the highly important Health Service Squad.

While doing their tasks which include such things as filing a dental and health record for every student in school, running errands, and giving ear and eye tests, these competent girls gain helpful nursing experience. In addition to this, they are taught first-aid by Miss Best.

Girls who are interested in nursing may join this squad.

Midgette.

PEN AND INK CLUB

THE Pen and Ink Club is the Junior and Senior Girls Honor Club. To be eligible for membership, the girls must maintain an average of at least ninety in each of their subjects. To be highest in leadership, scholarship, and service is the ideal of every member.

The Pen and Ink Club has given a series of ten teas for the faculty and administration. These were informal teas given for about fifteen different teachers each time. A Senior girl was in charge of the tea and a Junior was her assistant. A formal tea for the entire faculty was also given in the Spring.

The main project of the club is to raise enough money so that it is able to contribute a generous share toward the cost of printing the Handbook. The Handbook is a guide to courses and activities in Hempstead High. The Editor-in-Chief of the Handbook is Doris Baker, and Harriet Olinsky is the Business Manager. The members have raised this money by selling candy and sandwiches at football and basketball games.

The officers of the Pen and Ink Club are girls who are willing to give a liberal amount of their time to their club and are willing to work. They were elected on this basis and are therefore good officers. The president is Joanne Smyth, and the vice-president is Doris Perez. Joyce Santa Maria is the treasurer and Diana Westman is the secretary. Mr. Pill is the adviser to the Pen and Ink Club.

SQUARE DANCE CLUB

ONE of the clubs which seems to be leading the popularity list this year is the newly-organized Square Dance Club. More and more of the students are beginning to realize how much enjoyment there is to be had in square dancing and folk dancing.

The Square Dance Club is divided into two groups—one for the Freshmen and Sophomores, and another for the Juniors and Seniors.

Every Monday afternoon the Freshman-Sophomore group congregate in the gym of the Prospect Street School. Here, under the supervision of their helpful adviser and instructor, Mr. Franz, they are taught numerous folk and square dances. They have been learning dances from Russia, Switzerland, and a number of other foreign countries. In much the same way, the Junior-Senior group meets on Wednesday afternoons to learn similar dances.

Both divisions of the club have two secretaries—Nancy Brown and Betty Adams for the Freshman-Sophomore group, and Kathleen Howard and Barbara Booth for the upperclassmen.

Recently the club has been holding open-house meetings, to which the members may invite their friends. These open-house sessions take place on the second and fourth Saturday evenings of each month in the Washington Street School. At these square dances the members of the club aid in the teaching of the various dances besides participating in the dances themselves.

RIFLE CLUB

WHEN the Rifle Club convened this year, it had a total of one hundred thirty-six members, the largest membership the club has ever enjoyed. This is proof of the growing popularity and fame of this club.

The members elected James Moloney as president and Carroll Hamlet as vice-president. Mr. Voorhies is the adviser to the club, while George Putoors manages the club's equipment as executive officer.

The shooting range in the basement of the school is the regular meeting place of all the members. They usually practice shooting on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays and devote Tuesdays and Thursdays to shooting in matches. The members of the Rifle Team are selected from the Rifle Club and are therefore the ones who compete in the matches. Through the sixteen matches in which the club has participated this year, it has remained undefeated.

Nor is club membership limited to boys only. Eighteen of its members are girls, and it boasts a Girls' Rifle Team. The girls usually shoot once a week—on Thursdays. The girls' team entered the National Posted Matches, and although it was the first time they had ever fired in competition, they held either first or second place, shooting 1424 x 1500 in three of four matches.

THE Sophomore Literary Club is for any Sophomore girl or boy who is interested in developing wider fields of learning through books.

The monthly meetings, advised by Miss Sproule, are presided over by Nancy Brown who is assisted by vice-president Margaret Aronson. While Arlene Schmidt records the minutes, Ellen Fitzgerald is trusted to collect the dues as treasurer.

Very important at the informal gatherings is the program chairman, Barbara Andrus. Under her direction interesting programs are planned for each meeting. At one meeting the members had a round-table discussion on current plays and books. Another time they listened to an absorbing true story about living conditions in the Holy Land, as told by Widad Easa, a native of that country. Miss Rhodes, the librarian, also gave an interesting talk on finding new horizons through books on travel.

By way of recreation, the club had a Christmas party and plans to attend a play.

THE Color Guard is one of Hempstead High School's proudest organizations. The Color Guard has the honor and responsibility of carrying the United States Flag and the High School colors in our assemblies.

Every student present in the auditorium during one of our assemblies feels a surge of pride as the American Flag is borne down the aisle, leading our school colors. As the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag is led by one of the members of the Color Guard, every chin goes up. The Star Spangled Banner is sung with much enthusiasm. The Color Guard is also present at our very popular "pep" rallies, where they represent the spirit of Hempstead High School.

This year the Color Guard is being directed by Mr. Franz who administers this job along with his many other duties. The boys who are the members of the Color Guard have been chosen because they do their jobs well and because they know and practice the proper Flag decorum.

COLOR GUARD

EVERY Saturday afternoon during football season and on every occasion that called for our best marching band, this small group of snappy high-steppers could be seen marching out in front, proudly bearing aloft the standards of our country and of our school for the admiration of both young and old.

CHEERLEADERS

THIS year's group of thirty-two active cheerleaders was directed by co-captains Grace Lee and Greta Rich.

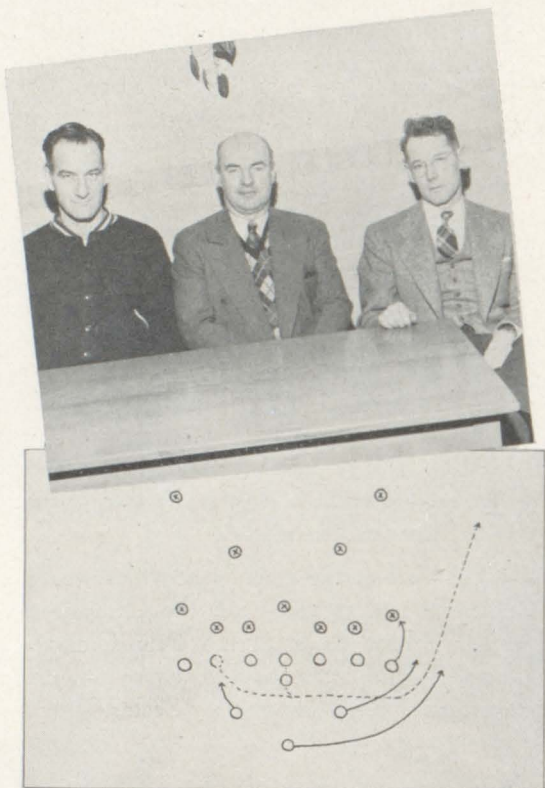

Included in the squad's activities was a splendid performance with the Hempstead High School Band at the Polo Grounds Football Exhibition and a house-to-house canvass of funds for the Boy Scouts.

FOOTBALL

THE Tiger football team, under the able guidance of Coach Joe Fay, wound up another highly successful grid campaign with the splendid record of six wins and two losses. The Bengals completed their '46 season by defeating Valley Stream to capture the South Shore championship.

The Hempstead Tigers, plagued by inexperience and fumbles, lost the season's opener to a determined Westbury eleven, 6-0. Despite the rugged defense play of the Faymen, the opposition converted an untimely fumble into the winning touchdown.

In their second battle of the year, the Tigers trounced the Freeport Red Devils, 41-12. Theron Banks racked up three "six-pointers" and three conversions, while Haward Quann, Walter Kohanowich, and "Don" Baker each delivered a touchdown to the Tiger cause. Joe Ostrosky added to the scoring fest by putting two perfect kicks through the uprights.

Using an alert pass defense and a powerful offensive, the Bengals overwhelmed the Baldwin Gold Wave, 26-6. Banks once more ran for three touchdowns, and Haward Quann scored his second of the year.

With two straight victories to their credit, the Hub Eleven encountered the Sewanhaka Indians. The Faymen had little trouble in downing the tribe, 43-6. Joe Ostrosky was the hero of the day, snaring three touchdown passes from the expert hand of quarterback Jim Carra. Ted Banks, as usual, hit for two touchdowns and a conversion, one of the former being a sixty-yard end run. Ed Cunningham and Haward Quann also piled up two more scores before the final gun sounded.

After three straight triumphs the Hub grid squad met defeat at the hands of a superior eleven, the Chaminade Flyers, by a score of 12-0. The Tigers' poor aerial attack sealed their doom as they tasted bitter defeat for the second time during the season.

In their sixth grid encounter of the season, the Tigers downed hard-fighting Glen Cove, 12-8. In a rough, penalty-spiked battle the Bengals overcame the Cover attack on touchdowns by Ed Cunningham and Bill Gunther. Gunther snagged the winning touchdown pass from Jim Carra.

The Tigers drubbed the Mineola Maroons 26-0 in their last home combat of the season. The Faymen piled up a considerable margin, and their victory was never threatened after the opening period. The decisive scores were pushed across by Banks, Jim Carra, "Kokey" Kohanowich, and Ostrosky, who also accounted for the extra point. The Tigers earned a berth in the South Shore Playoffs by this triumph.

In a vicious struggle the Bengals humbled Valley Stream, 19-14, to cop the South Shore Championship and the coveted Long Island Indian's trophy. In this hard-fought thriller Jim Carra tossed three perfect touchdown passes. Joe Ostrosky was on the receiving end of two, and Don Baker snared the other.

Hempstead can well be proud of its championship team, its coach, Mr. Fay, and his assistants, Mr. White and Mr. Krause.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

THIS year's Junior Varsity football squad completed a highly successful season with a record of three wins, one loss, and a hard-fought tie.

Under the guidance of their able leader and coach, Mr. Nilsson, the "Junior Tigers" met their met their first and only defeat of the season at the hands of a superior Freeport eleven, 13-0, in their opening battle.

Then, after being held to a 6-6 deadlock by the Mineola squad, the Tigers went on to defeat Sewanhaka, 32-0, Chaminade, 13-0, and finished the season with a 7-0 victory over Baldwin.

A vote of thanks is due to our hard-fighting Junior Varsity squad and its coach, Mr. Nilsson.

BASKETBALL

THE Tiger basketball team won its first nine games without a setback, to open the '47 season. Under the capable direction of "Chief" Royal Benner, what was rated as a so-so team in practice developed into a hot contender from the start.

The season opened with Hempstead eking out victories over Westbury, 31-30, and Mineola, 33-31. Meeting Westbury again, the Tigers won 29-20. Mepham next was defeated 31-22.

In our first overtime contest, Hempstead outscored Chaminade, 43-40. The Bennermen followed with victories of 32-31, 36-15, 47-33, and 35-30 over Lawrence, Baldwin, Central, and Sewanhaka respectively. Hempstead finally bowed to Freeport, 37-27.

To this expert quintet we extend our heartiest congratulations.

BASEBALL

IMPROVING on the '45 record, the '46 Tigers had a fairly good year when they won more than half of the contests played. Composed mostly of inexperienced boys plus a few veterans, it developed into a better-than-average team by the time the season reached the half-way mark. This team was built by the full cooperation of both the players and the coach, and not by the work of any one or two particular stars.

Important to the particular success of each boy is the sport in which he proves his worth to the school. One of these boys was a young pitcher who shut out Sewanhaka 4-0. Another time an outfielder scored the tying run in the sixth inning and then went onto the field to make a running catch of a long drive, thereby saving the game. Toward the end of the season, the game which was most enjoyed by both team and school was played. The Tigers met the Craigmens of Baldwin, giving them a complete drubbing by the score of 21-0. In this game every player got at least one hit.

One of the most conspicuous abilities of the team seemed to be the power of breaking a tie or coming from behind to win many close games when a single run meant victory or defeat. This talent is the true test of a good team.

Another fairly successful year ended for Hempstead with the thought of building a championship team in the years to come. Next year most of the players, now veterans, will be returning so that the chances for a better team seem very good. With a few new players the team can be completed; this should lead to bringing back, if not regaining, this year, the baseball trophy to the award cabinet at Hempstead. With a spirit like that of last year we cannot lose.

TRACK

A TRACK team, although it may seem quite ordinary, is much different from any other team, because of the fact that there is no actual teamwork to spur the boys on to greater heights until the very day of the meet. Each man must work almost completely on his own.

The 1946 squad went through the complete season without marring the slate by so much as one scratch. They then completed the season by winning the South Shore Athletic League Championship for the third consecutive year and the New York Section 8 Championship for the second year running.

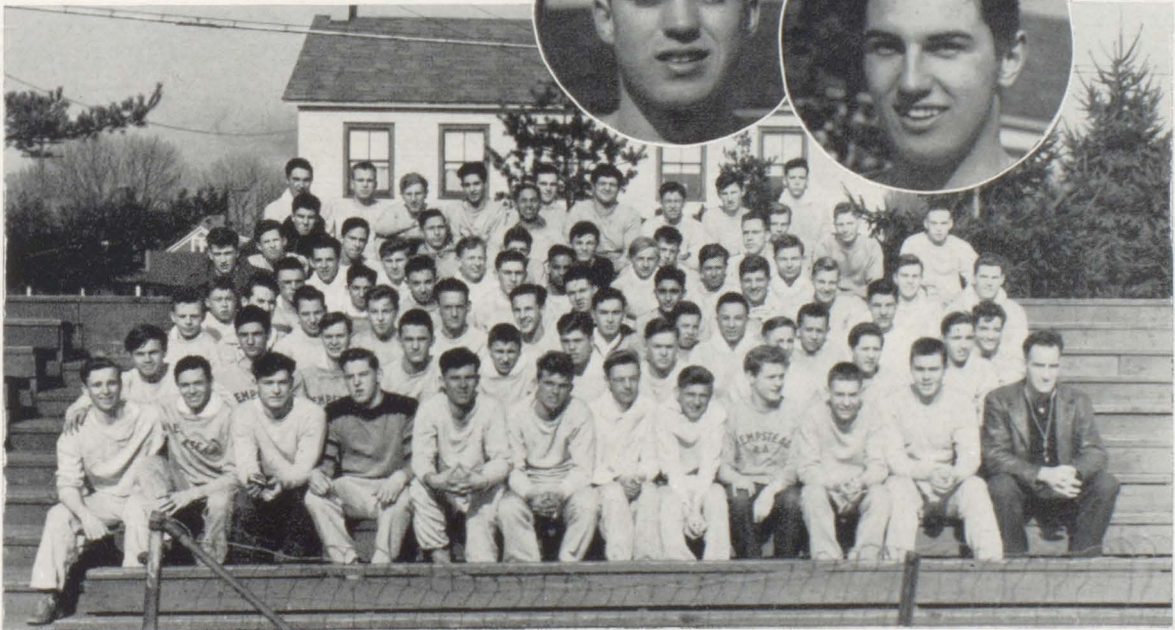

As for individual champions, Hempstead's private "Mercury," Dick Neubauer, bowed only twice while running fourteen times during the season, breaking the South Shore record for the 220-yard dash with a beautiful 22.4. Al Kohanowich high-jumped into the headlines by tying for a first in the South Shore meet during his first Varsity year.

If the saying that "A team is only as good as the brains behind it" holds true, then the ability of our track coach, Mr. Krause, has certainly been proven by the fact that he came to Hempstead three years ago and, starting with almost nothing, built up a team that has been the champion in its class for each one of those years.

The students and the faculty extend their heartiest congratulations to the 1946 squad upon its grand job of making the Hub team outstanding in the Spring sports. We are also looking forward to an equally successful 1947 team, for the prospects look promising.

Donald Baker, Edward Howard, Co-Captains.
Varsity Track Squad.

BOWLING

AN opportunity to bowl regularly and match one's skill against an opposing player are two features offered to members of Hempsted High School's bowling team.

To bolster a squad of four returning team members, Mr. Windt, coach, observed the hooks and bowling knowledge of twenty-five new prospects.

A 5-0 shutout over Mepham featured the Tigers' initial victory. A highly-rated Sewanhaka quintet was then defeated 3-2. Two successive 5-0 shutouts over Oceanside and Long Beach respectively, manifested the power of the roaring Tiger team.

An improved Long Beach squad finally halted the winning streak of the Hempstead High bowlers. The score was 4-1. The Hub keglers found the strike zone in their next encounter and handed Baldwin a 5-0 whitewashing.

In league competition five points is the maximum amount a team can win. The flying Tiger team demonstrated their ability to accomplish this feat as they trounced Freeport, Woodmere, and South Side by successive 5-0 scores.

RIFLE TEAM

WITH records being broken and tied, the marksmen of H.H.S. again demonstrated their ability to overpower their opponents.

"Defeat the opposition as they come" is a well-known motto of the Hempstead High nimrods.

Under the expert guidance of the Messrs. Voorhies, Dale, and Monsell this year's Tiger team proved that it can equal the excellently efficient records of other great H.H. rifle teams.

Opening at Jamaica with a non-league engagement, Hempstead defeated Jamaica 890-886. The first league match resulted in a win over Garden City. The score was 902-843. Keeping in the win column, the Tiger combination went on to outshoot a highly-rated Chaminade squad 901-892. The next two encounters were a 896-815 thrashing of Freeport and a 903-814 score over the Indians of Sewanhaka. At Valley Stream, Hempstead took a 886-858 decision over the Gateway Sextet.

The present aspiration of our Hempstead rifle team is to participate in the Sectional Eight and Long Island Press Championships.

SOFTBALL

LAST year, which was the first time Hempstead had a softball team, the squad finished a tough schedule with a surprising record for its first year.

Mr. Nilsson, after his experience in the Navy during the war, conceived the idea of a team to allow boys not quite good enough for baseball to play and to get experience. The team played a schedule very similar to that of the baseball team but with a few less contests.

In March the intra-mural teams were organized, and these squads played their schedule. After this series all boys on the class teams were urged to join the main softball team. Because of this intra-mural series and more practice, the team did not start its schedule until quite late in the season.

This season the softball team will start its schedule on time, so that this promises to be a good year for the team; for with the combined efforts of both coach and squad, it will develop into a team to be proud of.

GOLF

THE golf team is composed of those boys interested in becoming more skillful in playing the game. The team plays its home matches at the Hempstead Country Club and its other meets at various other courses around the county.

Under the direction of Mr. Faust, the Hempstead team opened its campaign on April twenty-second, defeating Lynbrook 5-0. A week later Hempstead won from Oceanside a 4-1 victory. Then the Tigers lost a protested match to Lawrence, 3-2, but came back to defeat Garden City and Rockville Center both by 4-1. Our second defeat followed when the Tigers lost to Chaminade 3-2.

Following this the Tigers won their next ten consecutive matches. They defeated Sewanhaka twice, both by 4-1, and Lawrence, Rockville Center, Garden City, and Baldwin by 3-1, 5-0, 5-1, and 5-0 respectively. The last four matches were easy, for Hempstead overpowered Lynbrook, Baldwin, and Oceanside, all by 5-0, and Chaminade by 4-1.

With most of the boys of last year's team returning, 1947 promises to be a good year for the Hempstead golf team.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION LEADER CORPS

THE Leader Corps of Hempstead High School, under the supervision of Mr. Nilsson and Mr. Franz, has successfully completed its initial year as a boys' physical education organization.

From a group of selected Juniors and Seniors, the following were chosen as officers: Ed Howard, Captain; Pete Smith, Deputy Captain; Claude Arnaud, Secretary; Louis Petit, Treasurer; Claude Arnaud, Historian; and George Watjen, Publicity Secretary.

In the "Leader Corps Handbook," which contains the constitution of the organization, the following summary is given: "The Leader Corps has been established to provide students with the opportunity to learn through doing the fundamentals of organization and administration of the Physical Education Program." Leaders have been selected because of their ability to assist the physical education teachers in the operation of the physical education activities. Any boy may become a member of the Leader Corps by showing interest in this field of extra-curricular activity.

Leader Corps members are versatile, for they act as referees for inter-squad football, basketball, and softball games. They attend to clerical work such as attendance information and are also guardians of the locker room.

In the Leader Corps handbook is a section pertaining to sports such as touch-football, dodgeball, track and field events, volleyball, soccer, and tournament rules. All members of the Leader Corps are expected to have a knowledge of these activities so that they may officiate in these sports.

GIRLS GYM AIDES

THE Gym Aides is an association of Junior and Senior girls who assist Miss MacCallum and Mrs. Reicher during and after gym classes. This group is one of the most important organizations in Hempstead High School. The members are chosen according to their qualities of leadership as well as their sports interest.

Nancy Whaley, a capable leader, was chosen as captain of the 1946 Gym Aides.

There are many things that a Gym Aide can do. Each girl is assigned to tasks for which she is best fitted through her own interest and skill. In the gym classes each girl is assigned to a squad for which she takes full responsibility. Some girls act as secretaries while others take locker duty.

After taking an umpire's examination some of the Gym Aides referee games in gym classes and during after-school activities. Gym Aides participate in at least one after-school sport.

Gym Aides devote a lot of their time to assisting the Freshmen and Sophomores in preparation for the annual Greek Games. Due to their previous experience the Gym Aides also help the Freshmen and Sophomores in their playing of baseball, hockey, basketball and other sports.

For being a Gym Aide points are given toward getting the highly-prized "H." The number of points varies according to the time given to this work.

At the annual banquet a new captain is elected for the next year. Gym Aide Association pins are given out, and numerals and monograms are presented to those who have earned them during the year.

GIRLS' SPORTS LEADERS

THE Girls' Sports Leaders are a group of girls who have been chosen by the girl athletes of Hempstead High as leaders of the sports in which they have proven themselves to be the most outstanding. They have been chosen because of their sportsmanship, initiative, and ability as leaders. These girls direct the sports of which they have been chosen captains. Most of these girls belong to the Junior or Senior classes.

Nancy Whaley manages the large group of Gym Aides—a difficult task. Nancy also plays a fine game of basketball. Edna Wolf displayed her ability as captain of the hockey team. Edna also participates in other sports as well as keeping the gym in condition. Marie Quince, a good batsman in a pinch, was for the second straight year captain of the baseball team. Marie is also a fine hockey and basketball player. Madeline Werner, who is a very fine basketball player, was head of the basketball squad. Joan Reynolds directed the Freshmen and the Sophomores this year in the preparations for the Annual Greek Games. Anna Steck's playing ability earned her the title of captain of the badminton team. Muriel Canning, an experienced equestrian and a fine organizer, has represented the Riding Club. Muriel also plays a very fine basketball game. Lillian Bryan, who always bowls a good game of tenpins, led the bowling team.

All of these girls have shown their ability in the sports of their choice by the jobs they have done in directing and leading them. Hempstead High School can well be proud of these girls, and we hope that future sports leaders can rate as high as have these girls.

HOCKEY

IN girls' field hockey, Great Neck defeated Hempstead High's first team, 1-0. Edna Wolf captained the Hempstead team. The second team, captained by Janet Bush, held Great Neck to a scoreless tie. The inter-class tournament was won by the Juniors, who were captained by Jo Werner. In the Sophomore tournament Janet Bush's team came out in first place. As the final feature of the season, a banquet for the teams was enjoyed by all.

BASKETBALL

THE basketball team, captained by Madeline Werner, had another successful season. The Junior team, captained by Ida McCoy, defeated Muriel Canning's Senior team, 26-23, to win the inter-class honors. Madeline Werner's team and Beverly Hine's team were also outstanding squads.

At the basketball banquet, which concluded the season, honor teams were chosen and awards were made. Dorothy Rehill, a very capable leader, was chosen as next year's captain.

THIS year the girls' badminton squad had three very fine teams. The combination of Anna Steck and Marion Schott proved to be the best team in swatting the birdie over the net. Anna Steck is also the captain of the badminton team. Joyce Nitt and Barbara Scott were the next in order, and Eleanor Vetter and Joy Thommen finished third. At the closing banquet Barbara Scott was chosen as the new leader.

BOWLING

UNDER the capable direction of Miss Rowles and Miss Silver, this has been a very successful year for girls' bowling. Lillian Bryant is captain of the team.

The girls bowl once a week and have rolled quite a few good games. Edna Wolf's 185 is the individual high score for this season.

Many Juniors show promise of better scores next year as a result of their fine showing this year.

SOFTBALL

AT the opening of the season in girls' softball, numerous girls came out for this sport, thus beginning a very successful season.

The Senior team which was led by their captain, Marie Quince, defeated the Junior girls in the interclass tournament. A combined team from all of the classes played against a visiting Greek Neck team.

Awards were made at the annual banquet, and Lois Borst was chosen as the new softball captain.

RIDING

THE Riding Club is a group of girls from Hempstead High who go over to the Riding Academy every Wednesday. They travel over and back by station wagon.

Miss Rowles is in charge of the club.

Many girls went out for riding, and the beginners were always given special attention, as they are in most clubs.

Muriel Canning, as president of the club, assists Miss Rowles in keeping the girls well organized.

GREEK

THE Greek Games, known also as the Olympic Games, originated in Greece in the year 776 B.C. These games were named after Olympia, a famous Greek soldier. He made a noted run that took many days, in order to bring a message to the Greek king. Olympia died after he gave the scroll to the king. The Olympic Games were one of the four great national festivals and were usually celebrated on the plain of Olympia, near Athens, in the midsummer of the year. No women were allowed to participate in this festival, and only Greeks of pure descent were allowed at any time to enter in this event until the conquest of Greece by the Romans. The winners of these games were awarded a garland of wild olive, and great fame was brought to their families and their cities. These games died out during the fourth century A.D. and were not revived until 1896. Since then the games have been held every four years. The Olympic Games held in Berlin in 1936 were the last ones, the contests having been discontinued during the war. The next Olympic Games are scheduled to be held in London in 1948. All the nations except Germany and Japan are expected to participate in these events.

GAMES

The Greek Games, an annual girls' sports event at Hempstead High School, were held for the eleventh time and were dedicated to Prometheus, the god of fire. Barbara Jones, Sophomore, won first place in the ode to Prometheus.

The Sophomores proved to be the far better team by defeating the Freshmen 63 to 22. This has been the eighth time the Sophomores have won these events since the Greek Games have come to Hempstead High.

After the entrance, which was won by the Sophomores, the girls sang the Greek National Anthem. The Senior and Junior girls then gave a very fine exhibition in creative dancing.

In the sporting events Jane DeMott, Freshman, took first honors in hurdling; Velma Lyons, Sophomore, took first honors in discus; the Sophomore hoop races, captained by Regina Quince, and the torch races, captained by Ida McCoy, came out in first place. Joan Johnson, Sophomore, took first place in the chariot exhibition and the chariot race. Sportsmanship was tied for by Peggy Jean Wishart, Sophomore, and Joan Dix, Freshman.

After the sporting events laurel wreaths were placed on the heads of each of the winners. This was the conclusion of another very successful year in these ancient games.

SPRINGTIME

THERE is probably no other season of the year when Hempstead High School and its surroundings are more beautiful or more attractive than in the Spring. Then the lawns seem greener than ever before, the magnolia trees burst into bloom, and presently, all the trees put on their Summer dress. This is the time of year when we especially enjoy spending our lunch hours strolling about the grounds, sunning ourselves in the bleachers, or just stretching out under the trees, where we can loll in the warm air and the pleasant sunshine. Once again we are glad to be a part of Hempstead High, but we do wish that classes could be held out on the lawn and under the trees instead of in the classrooms. Just then the bell rings, and we return to our classes with our pleasant dreams shattered.

SQUARE DANCING

JUST as square dancing has become increasingly popular everywhere in recreational centers about the country, so it has also become increasingly popular in our High School. During the Winter months the Physical Education classes devote several periods to getting the members of our student body better acquainted with this sport. Everyone has the opportunity of learning the elements of square dancing through the gym classes. Then, for those who are interested, the Square Dance Club meets afternoons after school, when more advanced dances are taught. The Friday evening dances in the Girls' Gym offer an evening of fun to those who enjoy devoting an evening to square dancing. With these many opportunities to learn this easy and enjoyable sport, there should be no student of Hempstead High who cannot take part in the fun.

WINNERS, SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

AS A project in the improvement and beautification of our school this year, the General Organization decided to conduct a magazine subscription drive. At the outset those in charge of the drive set as their goal the earning of sufficient funds to purchase a new cyclorama curtain for the auditorium. A magazine subscription contest was selected because it was believed that both school and students would profit from such a project. The commission to be received by the school would purchase the desired curtain, and the students would receive prizes for their efforts. The prizes that were awarded to the winners of the contest included many items that were both useful and valuable. While the drive was in progress, the worn-out curtain was accidentally destroyed, so that the purpose of the drive became a real necessity instead of merely a desired improvement.

SPORTS PATROL

THE Sports Patrol is composed of a group of boys whose duties require regular and faithful performance. They must be on hand at each of the several games played on our own field or court. There is not the pleasure of seeing or participating in the game; instead, they have the duty of policing the limits of the school grounds, to see that those who enter have purchased their tickets, that the exits are kept clear, and that order is maintained at all times. Mr. Nilsson is the adviser of the Patrol. He gives the instructions to the members and assigns them to their posts.

These boys accomplish their tasks quietly and efficiently. All the more credit is therefore due them, for without their efforts the large attendance at our games could not be so readily accommodated.

THE TWIRLERS

THOSE smart-looking high-steppers that lead our school band at the football games are the Twirlers. With Peggy Jean Wishart as Drum Majorette and Mary Ann Timcher as captain, the group includes Ann Horton, Ann McConologue, Thelma Funk, and Gloria Newton for a total of six members. Their twirling routine was learned through a good deal of hard work and individual practice, besides marching practice with the band every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and Saturday morning during the football season.

With the exception of the few beginning ones they learned from their instructors, most of the twirling routines are created and developed by the twirlers themselves. Because of the individual practice required, and the fact that only six girls are finally selected for the positions, the girls usually continue in their jobs throughout their high school years.

THE DANCE
CHAPERONES

LOOK! Who are those two people of the slightly older set, nestled quietly in the corner watching the action with apparent amusement? Why are they here? We always thought that these Friday night dances were for high school students.

Let's go over and introduce ourselves to them. Much to our amazement, the gracious lady tells us that they are one of the five couples assigned by the Parent-Teachers Association to chaperone these functions. These two people are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bell, chairmen of the committee. This committee has been most helpful to our very able and congenial director, Mr. Franz.

We think that the student body of Hempstead High School owe a vote of thanks to these tireless people for their ceaseless work in helping to oversee these dances.

HAVE you suddenly remembered that you forgot to get that notebook during your busy weekend? Must you absolutely have that map this afternoon? Do you very much want the latest trinket to present to a certain party at the end of the day? Then visit our well known Blue and White Corner! There, at the cross-roads of Hempstead High School, you will find a pleasant and competent staff of students, ready to help you fill your list of "short" items. There you may purchase, at cost, the various special requirements for your classes. The Corner specializes in those things that cannot be purchased in the regular stores about town. If you would be aware of the latest innovations at the corner, listen carefully to the Home Room Notices so that you may take advantage of all the bargains.

SOCCER

1946-1947 is the first year that Hempstead High School has included soccer in its sports curriculum. Although it is not a varsity sport as yet, it is a step in that direction.

This league consisted of four teams, namely: the Wildcats, the Boosters, the Troublemakers, and the Tigers. Respectively, the captains of the teams were: Howard Weiss, Paul Gorski, John Skura, and Richard Ulbricht. The champion of the season was the team with five wins, compared with four wins for the runner-up. The versatile Mr. Franz was the general coach and manager of the teams.

The members of Hempstead High School are happy to welcome this newcomer to the sports field of our school. We extend to the players our congratulations, and we look forward to a bigger and better program in the years ahead for our youngest sports group.

METAL CRAFT

CONTRARY to the opinion that many of us hold, the Metal Craft class is not held in the Prospect Street School, but is under the direction of Miss Field in Room 42. Metal Craft is the seventh step in the design course and is a class which is well-worth working for. Those participating not only enjoy working with metals but also take immense pleasure in the results of their efforts.

Among the finished products are such objects as etched earrings, bracelets, decorated rings, plates, ashtrays, letter-openers, and original costume jewelry. Some are made of sterling silver, new gold, or copper, while others are of nickel silver or pewter. These articles, besides being beautiful, make excellent gifts. The students send away for the metal materials but are very fortunate in having their tools provided by our school.

EVENING CAFETERIA

EVENING operation of our School Cafeteria is an activity that was started this year for the first time. Shortly after school opened in the Fall, came the news that classes from Hofstra College would use part of our High School Building during the late afternoon and evening. In order to provide eating facilities for these college students, it was decided to offer the services of our school cafeteria during the evening dinner hours. The same menu of fine, wholesome foods that is offered to our own high school students is now available to the college classes.

Mr. Tobani, our cafeteria manager, operates the evening serving as well as the day serving. Assisting him in the evening are a group of our own high school boys who perform the various tasks that are discharged by the regular staff at noon.

CUSTODIANS

A LARGE part of the successful operation of a school depends upon the organized and coordinated work of the school custodians. Their work involves the warmth, cleanliness, and general upkeep of the school building. The task in our school is an especially large one, due to constant use and the generally crowded conditions. We appreciate the spirit in which this group accepts the many extra jobs that ordinarily lie in their field of duty. Skilled in such work as carpentry and engineering, these men are constantly building, adding, or replacing worn-out parts of our school building. They work day-in and day-out to make our in-school hours the more comfortable.

We extend our sincere gratitude to these friends for their activities, which have made our stay in Hempstead High School both pleasant and enjoyable.

PEN AND INK TEAS

EVERYONE agrees that the Pen and Ink Teas are one of the most pleasant and successful activities of the Pen and Ink Club. With an officer or a senior member as chairman, various members are chosen to serve at each of the twenty informal teas held during the year. Various faculty members are the invited guests. The preparations for the teas are made by the girls and supervised by Mr. Pill. Such refreshments as tea and coffee, cream puffs, and cinnamon toast are usually served, while sandwiches are the menu at the Annual Spring Tea, to which the entire faculty is invited.

The purpose of these teas is to assist the members of the club in developing poise as hostesses. After the guests have been received by the chairman of the tea, they are served and entertained by the tea committee.

FOOTBALL MANAGERS

IN EVERY organization there is always a certain amount of work to be done that most people don't see being done, and that is therefore likely to be forgotten. This is just as true of sports as of other kinds of clubs.

We are all very proud of our athletic teams and of the splendid records they have achieved for themselves and for our school. However, back of the driving team on field or court, there is a group of students whose duties are very necessary to the success of the team. They are the managers. Theirs is the duty of looking after the equipment and the various other locker-room details. Only those who have worked at the many tasks of a sports manager know how essential these tasks are. Without them the smooth running of the team would be impossible.

AT the opening of school each Fall, we all observe this annual occasion, which is the first real indication that school is about to start again. Although it means that summer vacation with all its pleasures is about to become only a memory, yet it is a pleasant occasion. We not only renew our old acquaintances from last year, but perhaps make some new ones as well. We fill out our brown cards and blue cards and white cards as quickly as possible, in order to make the most of the few remaining hours of vacation, stopping by on our way through to get our regular checkup by the school physician, just to be sure that we will be able to take part in our big sports program. With Summer over we look gladly ahead to the coming year.
